We had a fabulous week on the farm! We welcomed THREE new students this week. It is exciting to see our little class grow a bit. The kids also practiced writing the letter Ff and the number 6. We are continuing to work on counting and number recognition with the 3 year olds, simple addition, name writing, and letter writing with the 4 year olds, and in kindergarten we are working on sight words and we just finished our addition unit so next week we will begin subtraction.

Next week we will have a visit from the fire department! The class did an AMAZING job at our practice fire drill, so they will be ready for the real thing when the firemen come in on Wednesday. We will be doing fire safety activities all week long, as well as talking about Christopher Columbus and Indeginous People when we come back to school on Tuesday.

If anyone has an old portable cassette or CD player around that they would be willing to donate we would love to take it off your hands!

Weekend Homework:

This weekend we would like for you to practice letter recognition. Have your child point out different letters that they know while you are reading, cut out letters from magazines or newspapers, find the letters in their name in restaraunt signs while you are driving around, or come up with your own creative way to practice!

Reminders:

We do not have school on Monday, enjoy your long weekend! Please don't forget to check out our Giving Tree - we request small items throughout the year that help to keep our classroom running smoothly and we greatly appreciate all of the donations!

Scholastic book orders are due on the 11th! Be sure to place your order online or bring it in to school before then.

Happy Friday!!
