Ms. Laura and Ms. Melissa

This week in PreK-K

Letter Focus: n – sound

Poetry Journals: We will return to poetry journals next week

Writing: Children are writing responses to our reading of Charlotte's Web. Some are choosing their favorite parts to draw and write about and others are drawing and writing a reaction to a part in the story.

Reading: Students are listening to books from their book boxes individually, either with Ms. Laura or Ms. Melissa each week now as part of our weekly schedule. They are loving this! Kindergarten students are bringing home sight word books that can also be used as flash cards (Last page) to practice at home.

Math: In Kindergarten math we are continuing with addition. In whole class math journals we are doing multiplication story problems with numbers up to 12. We are also working on writing and identifying the "tricky" numbers such as 2, 5, 12, and, 15.

Art: The students painted their choice of subject on watercolor paper as well as crayon resist name plates.

A few notes...

- Tuesday, the 24th, the day before Thanksgiving break, we will be having PAJAMA DAY and will be watching the movie Charlotte's Web to culminate our reading of the chapter book. I will be providing popcorn and juice boxes.
- Student-Led Conferences will be held December 18th. For those of you who are unfamiliar with this type of conference, students will be highlighting some of the information and skills they have learned during the first trimester at this conference. They will present and parents and teachers will support and enjoy.

If you would like the opportunity for a traditional parent-teacher conference to discuss your child's academic or social/emotional progress at school with the teacher, please feel free to schedule a separate time with me. I am willing to work with your schedule. Thank you.
